Waves

Waves, our unique business message broadcasting solution, seamlessly combines email, blog and social media channels to ensure cohesive and constant messaging that maximises impact.

Waves is a fully managed service. We ensure your message reaches, engages and influences your desired audience.

We do this by tracking everyone on the contact list and reporting back on which emails have been read and which links have been opened. The Waves detailed Broadcast Report provides you with this and more. We also post your message as a re purposed blog which is shared through our wide social media network. Many of our client blogs have had thousands of reads.

Digital Publishing

HuntRevenue Publishing specialise in all aspects of digital publishing and rich content creation and delivery, from B2B and B2C magazines, through to 'Waves', a service that combines the power of email, with blogs, social media and SEO to maximise and extend message reach and influence.

Our own interactive publications ensure we have the opportunity to enhance the revenue and communications for clients, whilst delivering quality content to a profiled and targeted reader audience.

We can also provide fully interactive publications for both internal or external use including: Brochures, Newsletters and Transactional Product Catalogues.

Unlike some other service providers we are happy to consider contract publishing projects that include revenue generation.

Leaders

Leaders is an exclusive networking service enabling companies to host the highest quality peer-to-peer events. Gatherings are focused around the host company objectives, where business relationships can be built, cemented and where experiences and knowledge are shared and opportunities explored. Leaders events are held in the most iconic of locations throughout the UK and further afield.

Each Leaders gathering includes the finest catering, amazing and memorable locations, inspiring speakers, engaging guests and conversation and ensures hosts establish key relationships and understandings on which to develop their business and reach corporate objectives.
